THIRD DISTRICT REPUBLICANS FOR SECRETARY TAFT

Rousing Meeting at Bowling Green, Where Organization Was Effected.

Only Two Counties are at All Doubtful.

FOURTH DISTRICT MEETING

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—At an enthusiastic meeting of Republicans of the Third district here every county was represented but Butler.

A letter was read from that county pledging its support for Taft. An organization was effected and Congressman James presided. Dr. William Turner, who pledged Warren county for Taft, stated that the secretary would carry every county in the district except two. Those present were Daniel Huntsman, of Scottsville; I. M. Hinton, of Woodburn; Tom Simpson, of Franklin; John Vick, of Central City; J. Frank Taylor, of Glasgow; George Mayo and Will R. Speck, of Bowling Green; H. Bristow, of Russellville; William Stagner, of Auburn; Ed Metz, of Glasgow; W. J. Wade, of Smith's Grove; Henry Vanant, of Central City; and David Skaggs, of Rockyhill.

In the Fourth. Louisville, Feb. 11.—A meeting of the Taft supporters of the Fourth congressional district of Kentucky, was held at the Victoria hotel, in this city on Saturday night. Senator G. A. Taylor, of La Rue county, was elected chairman.

The organization of the Taft forces was perfected by the election of Dr. D. W. Gaddie, of Hodgenville, as manager of the Taft campaign in the Fourth congressional district.

It is now pretty well settled that Hon. M. L. Hederlin, of Ohio county, will be the Taft candidate for congressman from the Fourth.

Taft Club at Capital. Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Treasurer Farley, Attorney General Breathitt and Superintendent of Education Crabb and others, formed a Taft club here today to be composed principally of Frankfort people.

RECEIVER FOR ILLINOIS TOWN.

Cahokia, 80th Running Under Laws of 1722, in Court's Hands.

Belleville, Ill., Feb. 11.—Judge B. R. Burroughs, presiding in the circuit court here yesterday, granted the petition of the Federal Union Security company of Indianapolis for an injunction to restrain George Lepeich from further acting as supervisor of the village and common fields of Cahokia and from collecting rentals from tenants of 600 acres of valuable lands of that historic settlement. Frederick B. Morrills, of Belleville, was made receiver. The court order results from an effort to readjust the affairs of the village. This is the first time in the history of Illinois that a receiver has been named for a village or city. The office of supervisor of Cahokia was created in 1722 and has been continued since with the same powers. The village is still governed by the laws given it by Louis XIV. of France.

FIVE CRACKSMEN BLOW UP SAFE AND ESCAPE PURSUIT

Springfield, Mo., Feb. 11.—Bank of Willard, at Willard, Mo., fifteen miles northeast of here, was robbed by five cracksmen at 2 o'clock this morning of $10,000. Three explosions of nitro-glycerine wrecked the building and opened the vault, and inner safe. Citizens opened fire when the men retreated, carrying their loot to a handcar, which they used for escape. The sheriff and his posse from here are now following the trails over the hills. The handcar was deserted a mile from Willard.

WEIGHING MAILES. The regular quadrennial weighing of the United States mail, to determine the amount to be paid the railroads for carrying the mails until the next regular weighing, began this morning all over Kentucky, Tennessee and other states in this district. Jeff J. Reed and Charles Hayden, of Bardwell, are weighers out of the local postoffice. The weighing of the mails will give employment to a large number of men over the district.

"Vigorous Action and Measures to Stamp Out Existing Abuses and to Vindicate Society as at Present."

Taft Addresses Thousands at Lincoln Day Banquet in Kansas City—Hadley Hails Him as the Man of the Hour.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 11.—Secretary Taft was given a memorable ovation by fifteen thousand people in convention hall last night when he was the guest of honor and principal speaker at the most elaborate banquet ever attempted in this city, given by the Association of Young Republicans of Missouri and attended by 1,000 persons, many of whom came from Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and distant Missouri cities.

Besides these thousands crowded the galleries. The demonstration accorded Taft when he entered the hall and again when he rose to speak has never been surpassed by the welcome given any public man in the history of this city. Taft's speech was a general defense of the Republican party and especially of the policies brought to the fore by the administration of Theodore Roosevelt.

In eulogizing Lincoln, the speaker said Lincoln was a party man, "as all men must be who expect to leave their individual impress upon the political character of the nation." Speaking of the recent panic and the president's late, special message to congress, the secretary said:

"The message contains an answer to the charges that the administration is responsible for the industrial depression and sharpness and emphasis with which this unfounded attack has met have hardened the great body of the people as a bugle call to renewed support of the policies of the administration."

Taft referred to abuses that had

CHARGED WITH SELLING BOAT OF STARVING PEOPLE; KEEPING MONEY

James Doolin Faces Accusation of Grave Depravity in Police Court.

On a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses, James Doolin, an old trouble maker for the police, was arrested by Patrolmen Johnson and Cross yesterday afternoon, and his trial continued until Thursday morning in police court. It is alleged that Mrs. Orretta Joiner, who died in a shantyboat at the foot of Madison street Sunday night, and left six children, told Doolin to take a skiff and sell it so that she would have money to buy medicine and provisions for herself and children. It is said that Doolin took the skiff, but in a short time returned and told Mrs. Joiner that the skiff had been swamped and lost. The police, it is said, found Doolin had taken the skiff and sold it for $3.50. The trial was continued in order to secure witnesses.

SUFFRAGETTES SCORN TO PAY FINES WHEN IMPOSED.

London, Feb. 11.—Suffragettes stormed the house of commons today but were beaten back by the police after a series of fierce scuffles. Forty-four were arrested. They intended to demand the right to vote, but their way was barred. The prisoners say they will remain in jail rather than pay fines imposed by man-made laws.

WEATHER.

RAIN

Unsettled with occasional rain and moderate temperature tonight and Wednesday. Highest temperature yesterday, 45; lowest today, 43.

ANTI-AMERICAN MEMBER LOSES ASSEMBLY SEAT.

Manila, Feb. 11.—Dominador G. Gomez, labor leader, an anti-American agitator, was deprived of his seat in the assembly today. Realizing his defeat was inevitable, Gomez introduced the resolution of expulsion. Lukban, Gomez's opponent, at the polls had contested his seat. The election was held to be invalidated, and a new one ordered.

KINDNESS OF MERCHANTS

The police department is grateful to the merchants of the city for their liberality in giving clothing for the six children left by Mrs. Orretta Joiner. The merchants were especially liberal, and all of the children were dressed with warm underclothing and new garments. The children are at the Home of the Friendless until word may be heard from their relatives near Golconda. The funeral of the mother took place yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Oak Grove cemetery, the Rev. S. B. Moore preaching the funeral. The police officials officiated as pallbearers.

In firing the shots for the final work of the day, the gases had ignited and had blown out the entire top of the shaft. Ten of the men were at work in a shaft 180 feet deep, in a room apart from the rest of the mine, and the other three were in a different part of the mine.

CHANGE IN ORDER AMONG DEMOCRATS OF THIS DISTRICT

Mott Ayres and Clem Whittemore Likely to Lose Official Heads.

Gibraltar District Will Get Away From Old Regime.

WILL CONSULT OLIVE JAMES

While in the absence of Congressman Olive James, no effort is being made to concentrate on anyone as Democratic central or executive committee member from the First congressional district, there is a distinct sentiment in favor of a change in the management of political affairs of the party in the west end of the state. Mott Ayres, fire marshal under Governor Beckham, is executive committee member from the district, and Clem Whittemore, of Graves county, special attorney in the attorney general's office under the Beckham administration, is central committee member. Both these gentlemen, probably will lose their places, because of their too close relations to a regime that Democrats on this way believe is passing. Congressman James' views will be consulted, and it is probable that no one will be selected for either committee by the delegates to the state convention, who is not satisfactory to the reorganization of Democracy in the Gibraltar district this year, according to the forecast.

W. A. Berry probably will have no opposition for county chairman.

No one seems to be mentioned here for delegate to the national Democratic convention at Denver. Olive James went four years ago, and he probably can go again this year, if he desires.

VISCOUNT KANEKO SAYS WAR TALK FABRICATED.

New York, Feb. 11.—Viscount Kaneko, one of the foremost Japanese statesmen, in a letter to Henry Claws, says all talk of war or strained relations between Japan and the United States is veriest rot and really fabrications of sensational newspapers.

DENEEN'S DEFY

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 11.—In a seven-column statement Governor Deneen strikes defiance at the investigators of the state insane and other asylums, and defends the institutions from his "defamers." Former Trustee Wagner, whose testimony is regarded so highly by Deneen's opponents, is placed in the Ananias class.

Sues Peanut Company.

Memphis, Feb. 11.—A. G. Thompson filed suit Friday in chancery against T. C. Britt for $2,500 and 10 per cent attorneys' fees. The plaintiff alleges that he advanced this amount on two promissory notes of the Southern Peanut company, which were endorsed by Britt. Thompson alleges that the concern is insolvent, and he wants to collect the money from the indorsee.

No Tennessee Primary.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 11.—Unless present indications fall, the state Democratic executive committee, which meets in Nashville on an early date, will not order a general gubernatorial primary election. The indications now are that the committee will adopt a plan for the nomination of a candidate for governor which will be, in effect if not actually, that of the delegated primary.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Tonight the Commercial club will elect the officers for 1908, and provisions have been made to accommodate every member of the club. Mr. H. C. Rhodes is the retiring president, but on account of his untiring work and interest in the club, he is certain to be re-elected. Mr. Saunders A. Fowler has been acting secretary, and may be elected to the secretaryship. All the officers are anxious that every member be present at the meeting, which will be in the club's headquarters, Sixth street and Broadway.

Cape Girardeau, Mo., Feb. 11.—While attempting to board a moving Cotton Belt freight train at Parma, Mo., John Johnson, aged 40 years, of Malden, Mo., slipped and fell under the train and was instantly killed. Johnson had been to Parma to purchase whisky, as Malden is a local option town, and when found under the train he clutched a quart bottle of whisky in each hand. This is regarded as a blow to the liquor element, as this is the second occurrence of this kind that has happened there in the past two months.

CAUGHT BETWEEN BUMPERS OF CARS, HELD AS BY VICE

Caught between two coal cars, Frank Williams, a negro who was trying to get to Cairo, was crushed about the hips this morning about 8 o'clock in the Illinois Central yards near Eleventh street and Kentucky avenue. As told by Williams he was trying to get past a string of cars. Williams jumped between two cars, but did not notice that the drawhead was off one car and it was being pulled by a chain about a foot long.

When the engine slowed the car that was being pulled crashed against the preceding car, and Williams was jammed between the two cars. One hip was badly injured, and for a quarter of a mile he rode this way unable to utter a warning cry. When Kentucky avenue was reached the cars were pulled apart and Williams dropped unconscious to the track. He fell between the rails and the wheels did not touch him.

When seen by trainmen he was on the roadbed, and was carried near the old freight depot. He thought he would become better, but at 11 o'clock Henry Seamon took him to Riverside hospital, where he was given treatment.

Williams is 32 years old, and said he had come here from Atlanta. He admitted he had gone to the yards to catch a train to Cairo, his former home.

FORGING NAME TO MONEY ORDER GETS NEGRO IN TROUBLE

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 11.—Postoffice Inspector A. L. Rice, of this district, was in the city yesterday, having brought Oliver Lowery, a prisoner, here who is charged with forging a signature to a money order. Lowery, who is a negro, lived at Brookport where the crime was committed October 31. The sum involved was only $8.50 but it is probable that Lowery will go to the penitentiary for the offense. He was taken to Danville Sunday by Deputy United States Marshal Seagars, where he will be tried in the United States district court.

Inspector Rice found Lowery on a farm on Green's Island near Smithland, Ky. The negro is said to be an industrious man and his record is not a bad one.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Cecil Lyon, Republican national committeeman, of Texas, and J. F. McMurray, a prominent Oklahoma Republican, are here predicting Roosevelt's renomination and re-election. McMurray said Oklahoma will go Republican sure, if Roosevelt is nominated. Lyon said Texas wants Roosevelt again in the white house. They think they will have him.

L. & N. TO CUT WAGES.

Notice Given Trainmen of Cut Effective First of March.

Memphis, Feb. 11.—Notices have been sent out on every division of the Louisville and Nashville to all trainmen, giving notice of a cut in wages, which will go into effect the first of March. The notices sent to employees of the operating department on the Memphis division are that the scale of wages in effect March 1, 1907, will be resumed on the first of the month. On March 1 of last year, after many conferences between representatives of the various trainmen's organizations, the wages of the men were adjusted. The increases granted were not uniform, the efforts of the men being directed to making the salaries on various divisions more uniform. The increases granted at that time to engineers, firemen, conductors and flagmen were from 5 to 10 per cent, and varied with the different classes of runs in the freight and passenger departments.

Speaking of the proposed reduction, Division Superintendent F. N. Fisher said that he could not figure out any special percentage of reduction for the various classes of employees affected, but that he thought it would not probably average over 6 to 7 per cent.

THIEVES ENTER STORE BY WAY OF OPEN TRANSOMS

Thieves, who are expert in gliding through transoms, broke into Segenfelder's drug store, Ninth and Tennessee streets, Sunday night, and made away with $52.05. Evidently the thieves were out for the coin, for after taking $2.05 from the cash register, the robbers found $50 that Mr. Segenfelder had placed in the drawer with corks. He had raked the corks back and had placed the five $10 bills in the drawer and raked the corks over the bills until they could not be seen. The thieves must have known this as the money was gone next morning. Nothing else was missing from the store, and the thieves were so slick that no clue has been left the police.

Newport Water Works Case Forms Precedent for Paducah to Defend Against Assess- ment.

Paducah will not stand for assessment of her property by the state and county without a further fight, and City Solicitor Campbell has taken steps to secure an appeal from the circuit court, finding the city liable for state and county taxes on the wharf, market house and lots in Oak Grove cemetery. One feature of the case was appealed and the city lost; but a recent decision in the case of the city water plant of Newport, involving many of the same points, sustained the city's contention of exemption, and Paducah will try to secure the same privilege.

The ground on which the property was held liable for taxes is broadly, that the city derives revenue from them. The county court fixed the value of the wharf at $25,000; the market house at $10,000; and the cemetery lots at $10,000. They were assessed back several years and penalties were charged against the city.

REV. MR. HOLCOMBE IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 11.—The Rev. Holcombe, son-in-law of Sam Jones, the evangelist, was arrested for exclaiming during the progress of a sermon in his church: "Say, you woman back there, weighing about 400 pounds, with your back towards me and making so much noise, please give your attention." The woman and her friends were indignant and caused the pastor's arrest.

The Rev. Mr. Holcombe is well remembered in Paducah, having held a revival at the Broadway Methodist church, and created considerable of a sensation by attacking Mayor Yeiser personally through a newspaper. A reply provoked a declaration which sounded much like a threat against the mayor, who offered to accommodate Mr. Holcombe, but was refused.

Important Arrest by U. S. Authorities in Texas.

Waco, Texas, Feb. 11.—John A. Gee, 30 years old, was arrested in Bryan and brought here this morning on complaint issued from the office of United States Commissioner A. P. McCormick, charging Gee with the theft of two mail pouches from depot trucks in Temple on December 20. The pouches were valued at $50,000 worth of checks, money orders and drafts thrown into a small stream, while all money in the letters was taken.

Gee is believed to have had confederates, and other arrests are expected soon.

NEW TOBACCO BINS

To facilitate the handling the samples and types of tobacco twelve large upright bins have been built in the salesroom of the Dark Tobacco Growers' association by A. N. Veal, local salesman. The bins are six feet high, and all of the types may be secured more easily than in the old booths. The bins cost the association about $100, but the improvement is of much value in handling the types offered for sale. Each buyer will be given a bin in which to place the types of the tobacco he has purchased.

A Short Grace

When the Rev. Dr. Alexander Mackay-Smith came to Philadelphia as bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Philadelphia in the Episcopal church, one of the first persons to entertain him was a well-known banker, at whose house Bishop Mackay-Smith dined a few nights after his arrival in the city. As they sat down at table, the host asked the bishop to say grace, with which request the visitor, of course, graciously complied. Then, the prayer over and the feast begun, Dr. Mackay-Smith looked up, smiling.

"My dear sir," said he, "do you know that I was a little afraid to ask a blessing, until I remembered something which I had read in the papers a short time ago?"

"Afraid," repeated the banker.

"And of what, pray?"

"Yes, afraid," insisted the bishop, "until I recollected that the legislature had just done away with your Pennsylvania law, insisting upon a three-days' grace."

FORAKER PLAIN FALLS DOWN HARD

Shows That Anti-Taft Man Was Appointed in Ohio.

Postmaster General Fails to See How Senator Could Make Anything of Incident.

REPLY MADE TO PRESIDENT

Washington, Feb. 11.—Rising to the question of personal privilege Senator Foraker replied in the senate to the denial by President Roosevelt of the charges that he has used federal patronage for the purpose of influencing the national political contest. The senator prefaced his argument by reference to the Ohio situation in a letter of President Roosevelt to Dudley Foulke, former civil service commissioner, which was published.

He produced correspondence relating to the appointment of Charles H. Bryson, whose nomination as postmaster at Athens, O., was withheld temporarily. Bryson had given an interview while in Washington expressing the opinion that Taft was losing ground in the Ohio contest. Correspondence showed that Bryson had stood his ground and his declaration of political independence had resulted in another order from the white house making the appointment.

Communications on the subject were between Representative Douglas, of Ohio, and Bryson. Foraker commented on the case, insisting that the records clearly showed attempts to "coerce" Bryson and that his fearlessness had been responsible for his retention by the president.

Meyer Comments

Washington, Feb. 11.—Commenting upon Foraker's remarks in the senate, Postmaster General Meyer later gave out the following:

"I do not quite understand Senator Foraker's charge in the senate, because his statement itself shows that notwithstanding the president knew that Postmaster Bryson favored Foraker, he sent in Bryson's name for postmaster at Athens, O. The president had previously directed me to hold up the nomination, it having been alleged that Bryson had been guilty of corruption and had been a violent opponent of the administration's policies.

"After looking up the matter I notified the president that the charges had been investigated and were not sustained, and proved to be wholly unjustifiable. The president then directed me to send in his name. It was accordingly sent in as soon as the senate reassembled after the Christmas holidays. When the president gave his direction to send this name in he and I knew that Bryson was a friend to Foraker."

"Mamma, have I got to take a bath tonight?"

"I'm afraid you have, my dear."

"But I haven't done anything all the week to deserve it."—Life.

COMMON SENSE VS. STRONG DRUGS.

Simple Oil of Wintergreen Cures Eczema and Drives Out Old-Fogy Treatment.

If you were to hack your finger or scald your arm, you would apply some healing remedy as soon as possible, wouldn't you?

That would be good common sense and it would bring the quickest relief. You surely would never think of drinking medicine or doctoring the blood to cure a surface affliction.

It's just the same principle with diseases of the skin. Eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum and barber's itch can be cured and cured easily if you strike right at the trouble as you do with a cut or burn.

The cause of itching, burning skin diseases according to modern science is a germ which feeds upon the weaker parts of the skin. To kill these skin bacilli which produce the itching sores and ugly red blotches, use the famous prescription of oil of wintergreen, glycerine and thymol, commonly known as D. D. D. Prescription. This mild liquid was advocated by a prominent skin specialist, Dr. Dennis, of Chicago, long before it was adopted generally. This liquid is called D. D. D. Prescription. It is a positive specific for all skin diseases.

Don't dose the stomach. Cure the skin through the skin. We know D. D. D. and vouch for it. Call at our store and let us explain.—R. W. Walker & Co. Booklet on skin diseases free.

Second, That our representatives at Frankfort be requested to use their influence and votes against said bill.

Third, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in our local paper and the Courier-Journal at Louisville, Ky.

THEATRICAL NOTES

"The Land of Nod."

"The Land of Nod," a musical fantasy in a prologue and two acts, by Adams and Hough, with music by Joseph Howard, will be the attraction at the Kentucky February 18. The production is under the management of the Rork company, whose successful musical comedy, "Coming Through the Rye," was seen here recently.

One of the principal reasons why "The Land of Nod" has been so unusually successful is on account of its decidedly unique character creations and the novelty and picturesqueness of the play, which are briefly described as follows: The prologue shows a beautiful garden of flowers where children are at play. Little "Bonnie" falls asleep beneath a rose bush, and the change of scene to the first act discloses her in the "Land of Nod." In this mysterious sleep-land with such strange features as a peppermint river, a house of cards, a candy bridge, balloon trees, and mushroom palaces, Bonnie starts exploring. She encounters the "Jack of Hearts" and his parents, "The King and Queen of Hearts," the "Weather Man," who makes all kinds of weather while you wait; "April Fool," "The Sand Man" and his pal, "Knock-out Drops" and the merry old "Man in the Moon." All of these queer people contribute to her amazement and entertainment. In the second act the "Nightmare Palace" of the "Land of Dreams" is entered and the plot, begun in the preceding act, is carried to a logical conclusion. Among the principals are Knox Wilson, William Friend, Lawrence Coover, Luella Drew, Ursula March and other well known names. The entire company numbers seventy people, including forty show girls.

"The Royal Chef."

"The Royal Chef" was produced in Chicago followed by an extensive run in New York City at the Lyric theater, and the musical pastime, as it is termed, scored heavily in both cities. The cast is a strong one and is headed by William J. McCarthy, the favorite dialect comedian, Oscar Ragland, Herbert Carter, George Porter Smith, Franklin Fox, Gertrude Hutchison, Dorothy Rae, La Belle Laurette, Dixey Lillard and over fifty others. There are said to be a number of catchy airs in "The Royal Chef," most prominent of which are "O'Reilly," "Let Me Go Back," "Mother Goose," "Would You If You Were Me," "The Rajah Bold," as sung by Oscar Ragland is another that will undoubtedly score heavily here. The beautiful dancing and singing chorus is one of the big features of the "Chef" and includes the well known "Brokers."

"Sweetest Girl in Dixie."

Love has ever been and must ever be the theme of plays, but there are many kinds of love depicted in "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie." The colonel loves her because she is his one eye lamb. Aunt Caroline loves her because she done raise her from a baby. Martin loves her because she is so far above him. Uncle George loves her because she is "jes natchally so good to him." The young man from the north loves her because she is the "one girl" and the audience loves her because she is "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie." "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie" appeals to all classes of theatergoers from the box seats to the back row of the gallery.

Jay Cooke's Surprise.

There is no more dramatic incident in all financial history than that of the day of the Jay Cooke failure. The day and night preceding this event President Grant was a guest of Mr. Cooke at the magnificent home at Ogontz, near Philadelphia. President Grant was a frequent visitor at Mr. Cooke's house and the two men were on terms of close intimacy. Mr. Cooke was apparently unaware that the storm was to burst which would sweep his great banking house out of existence, when on the morning of the eventful September day he bade President Grant good-bye and went to the office of his firm in Philadelphia and took up the threads of his business. During the morning his partners in New York, unable to with What shall we do to be saved? was the title of one of Robert Ingersoll's lectures. People of faith and people of no faith flocked to hear it. stand the pressure upon them, closed the doors of the New York office, which was at the corner of Wall and Nassau streets. Mr. Cooke was then obliged to close the doors of the Philadelphia office, and the great panic of 1873 started in and swept with tremendous force over the entire land.

Mr. Cooke is not the only financier who has been astounded at his own failure. In the crisis of 1907 many a banker and business man has had a rude and violent awakening from a sense of security. Mr. Cooke, says Dr. Oberholzer, had appreciated the unsoundness in the financial arrangements of the government and of private persons, firms and corporations in the boom preceding 1873. He had seen the wrongs of the system very clearly, but, as one who is in the current will, he allowed himself to be swept along with the tide, especially after he had become so deeply involved in the Northern Pacific enterprise. The long inflation had brought on a promoters' fever, leading inevitably to the crash.—Wall Street Journal.

THE TRUTH ABOUT KIDNEY TROUBLE.

(Swelling Ankles.)
Swelling ankles or hands, or puffy eyelids, are usually the first notices of dropsy, which is almost always definite evidence of inflammation of the kidneys that has made considerable progress. It is usually in the chronic or supposed incurable stage when first noticed.

The inflammation has closed the tubules in the kidneys, and the heart pumping through the obstruction has increased the blood pressure until the thin watery portions are forced through the veins and drop down and settle in the hands and feet, and in the eyelids at night.

As the Books know nothing that will reduce kidney inflammation and open the tubules, there has been no successful treatment for dropsy, physicians usually attempting to prolong life by giving nitroglycerine, digitalis, etc., etc., to strengthen the heart. This treatment may momentarily assist the patient, but it has no deterrent effect on the development of the inflammation in the kidney tissues, and the patient almost inevitably succumbs. Hence dropsy has been considered incurable.

It can be readily appreciated that if Fulton's Renal Compound disperses inflammation in the kidneys that the tubules will open and the heart pressure will decline with gradual restoration.

This is exactly what happens, and inflammation of the kidneys of the most serious forms, involving dropsy, now yield to the Renal Compound in about 87 per cent of all cases without reference to whether it is in the first or second stage. In fact, this classification now practically disappears in the presence of a real specific for inflammation of the kidneys.

PICTURE SHOWS

WILL PUT IN EXTRA AISLES AND EXHAUST FANS.

Operating Rooms Found to Be in First Class Condition at All of Them By Chief.

Fire Chief James Wood and W. J. McPherson, city electrical inspector, visited the moving picture shows yesterday afternoon on an inspection to see what provisions of the new ordinance the owners are obeying. The operating rooms of the picture shows are in first class condition, as they are regulated by the National Underwriters' association. In several of the shows another aisle will have to be opened. The ordinance provides for two aisles from the stage, and most of the shows have one aisle with six seats on each side. Exhaust fans will be placed in operation at once to supply fresh air for the houses. The shows are equipped with fans, but they have not been in use. Another exit will have to be built by several of the shows, and then the shows will come up to the ordinance. The owners agreed to make the changes at once.

DECISION SOON IN FISH-HARRISMAN BY. CONTEST.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—A decision in the suit instituted by Stuyvesant Fish and others to restrain the voting of 281,331 shares of stock in the Illinois Central at the annual meeting of that corporation, will be given February 20, according to the announcement by Judge Ball today. The adjourned election of directors for the company is scheduled for March 2. J. T. Harrisman, president of the railroad denied the statement attributed to Fish in which it was asserted that the company has in contemplation a plan to raise $30,000,000 by means of short term notes. Harrisman said the company has a financing plan under consideration but that no action has been taken upon it.

Notice.

Owing to the fact that the general impression prevails, and has been scattered by the newspapers since the burning of our factory at Dycusburg that Mr. Henry Bennett was an employee of ours, we take this method of notifying the public that Mr. Bennett was not, is not nor ever has been an employee or representative of E. J. O'Brien & Co. The only business relations we ever had with Mr. Bennett were to rent his factory, which we had engaged for the season, and which was under the management of Mr. W. B. Grove. Mr. Grove was our only representative and the factory at Dycusburg was the only factory we operated or the only business we had in that territory.

We understand that Mr. Bennett was engaged in buying tobacco at Dycusburg and Craneville, but beyond the fact that neither we nor Mr. Grove were connected with the business, we know nothing whatever about it.

Mock Trial Conducted by K. of P. Well Attended by Delighted Lodge Members.

Knights of Pythias had a "full house" at their regular meeting last night, about seventy-five members and visiting brothers being present.

The occasion of such a large attendance was the entertainment provided by the social committee in the way of a mock court and trial by jury of the "criminal" in the person of A. J. Bamberg.

The Honorable Judge John W. Skelton presided over the session, and had for his sheriff Mr. L. D. Potter. Mr. R. L. Palmer attended to the duties of clerk. The commonwealth of Kentucky was most ably represented by County Judge Lightfoot, with Mr. T. E. Grasty as assistant counsel. The defendant's case was in the hands of the most eminent lawyers in the city to-wit: Hon. Charles (Delmas) Welle, Hon. Arthur Martin (Littleton) and Mr. A. E. Stoin.

The trial was carried out in a barbershop of the regular criminal court custom, and during the reading of the indictment charging the defendant with larceny, both petty, grand and otherwise, and in the empanelling of a jury, the preliminary hitches known to police court were indulged in. The court room was packed with an interested throng, and Sheriff Potter had much to do to preserve order.

After the jury was secured the trial proceeded, and from the beginning proved a cause of much fun and great hilarity. The prosecution introduced as witnesses for the state Messrs. J. W. Barksdale and W. M. Ross who swore as to the guilt of the defendant, and the prosecuting attorney made a speech which insured conviction before it was half under way.

The defense had as witnesses Messrs. Mel Byrd and Frank Moore, who testified as to the guiltlessness of the poor, to-be-pitied defendant.

Judge Skelton, in his instructions to the jury, asked them to find a verdict of not guilty. After retiring and remaining out only five minutes, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty and affixing the penalty.

The entire proceedings proved a successful program of entertainment.

ONE IN SEVEN

DEATHS IN KENTUCKY ATTRIBUTABLE TO TUBERCULOSIS.

Sanatorium Explained By Dr. G. F. Rembert to Members of Legislature—Its Purpose.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—"Every seventh death in Kentucky is caused by consumption, or tuberculosis. Of all those who die each year between 20 and 40 years of age every third death is caused by tuberculosis."

"With 14 per cent of Kentucky's deaths caused by consumption this state is outranked by two states only in the excessive contribution of needless deaths."

These facts were presented by Director E. G. Routzahn, of the American tuberculosis exhibition at the joint session of the state legislature.

Dr. G. W. F. Rembert, physician in charge of the associated sanatorium, Louisville, spoke at the tuberculosis exhibition.

"A sanatorium," said Dr. Rembert, "is an institution where curable cases of tuberculosis (or consumption) are given in the open air, and careful regulation of air food and exercise. At the same time that patients are receiving the treatment, they are instructed as to the nature of the disease and the methods necessary to be pursued so as to prevent the giving of the disease by them to others. When these patients return to their homes they serve as missionaries in their homes as well as with their friends."

"The principal advantage of the sanatorium treatment over that to be obtained in their homes is that in the sanatorium patients are constantly under the supervision of the medical staff so that even the minutest details of the treatment will be carried out. In this way the food and exercise allowance of the patient is individualized so that if possible the patient continues to improve without in any way jeopardizing the chances for recovery by any carelessness on his part. The object lesson to the family of the patient in watching the improvement in the patient's condition and the treatment adopted to bring about this improvement. Frequently the greatest drawbacks to the treatment in the home are some members of the patient's family who have such a dread of fresh air and are so afraid lest the patient will develop pneumonia or grip by getting the fresh air, that as soon as the physician will have left the windows will be quickly closed.

"While the results obtained at the sanatorium in bringing about a cure of the disease so that many of the patients can return to business life and again provide for their families justify the sanatorium, there is no question but that the greatest good done is the education in the prevention of the disease and the detection of the disease in its early stage when once contracted."

SAYS "OUIDA" WAS AMERICAN

Woman Declares That Authoress' Real Name Was Gliddolph.

London—A dispatch from Florence says that an American woman, the widow of Col. George Roy Gliddolph, who fought in the Confederate army and died twenty years ago, told a remarkable story of Ouida's parentage after the funeral of the authoress.

According to Mrs. Gliddolph, Louise de la Rampe, which it was supposed was the novelist's real name, was, in fact, Col. Gliddolph's sister, having left her home in America at an early age, under the care of a woman who adopted her.

Mrs. Gliddolph explained that she had come from the United States to aid Ouida, after writing several letters, which the novelist disdained to answer. Her husband, she said, never spoke of Ouida without weeping. A photograph of Col. Gliddolph which she showed bore a striking resemblance in the high forehead, penetrating glance and other family characteristics to Ouida. She casually remarked that Ouida's father had made and lost two fortunes, disclosing the same financial weakness in both father and daughter.

Mrs. Gliddolph's story recalls that fact that there always had been more or less mystery concerning Ouida's parentage. Some persons declared that both her father and her mother were French and she was born in France. Others were emphatic in saying that her father was French, while her mother was English, being a native of Bury St. Edmund, where Ouida it was said, had been born in 1830. Ouida always refused to talk about her relatives, as, indeed, she did about any private matters.

The New York World produces elaborate statistics and a map to show that under Bryan's leadership Democracy has been receding. The World concludes that Bryan is the cause. Yet, the truth is, that Democracy is a stagnant pool and it must ever recede. Bryanism, like a breeze stirred ripples on the surface, cleared away the green scum of dead issues and made the waters appear greater than they actually are. Take Bryan away, and what is the rest of Democracy?

No better selection for state central committee from the First district than J. C. Speight, of Mayfield, could be made. He is well acquainted with the political condition and needs of west Kentucky, knows the men and is possessed of tact and judgment, as demonstrated in his wise recommendations as referee of federal patronage. He has been repeatedly complimented by the officials of the national administration, who appreciate his painstaking care in assuring appointments that reflect credit on the administration. Mr. Speight represents the sentiments of the great body of the people in his loyalty to the present administration, and will reflect that sentiment in the state committee.

Once more the president silences his critics—all but Foraker—by telling the truth. The charge was made that he was using federal patronage to further the ambitions of Secretary of War Taft, the inference being that civil service rules were being violated. Senator Foraker himself said he had only one case in Ohio in which documentary evidence was obtainable. That was the case of a postmaster, who declared for Foraker as against Taft. His appointment was held up temporarily, and then it was made and confirmed, although he still loudly protested his allegiance to Foraker. Now, if that appointment was held up, because the man was for Foraker, and it was clearly demonstrated that he was for Foraker, why wasn't he turned down? The fact is, that the only people in Ohio for Foraker are federal office holders, appointed through the influence of the two senators, and they have been overwhelmed by public sentiment.

CRIMINAL SELFISHNESS.

The New York Times, moralizing upon the latest Jackson tragedy, says: "Every observer of the Appalachian mountaineers credits them with the rudiments of several virtues and insists upon the possibility of their regeneration. There are few signs of such a possibility in the history of James Hargis. He was neither ignorant nor poor, while he had associated not a little with civilized men and had participated with them in the conduct of large public affairs. Having precisely what the mass of his neighbors are supposed to need, he was worse than they, and was only the more powerful among them on that account."

What is more urgently needed in the Kentucky mountains, and, lamentably enough, in the more progressive sections of the state also, comments the Courier Journal, is moral development. Judge Hargis' career formed a conspicuous example of the evils of criminal selfishness. A man of his moral bent in New York becomes a grafting political boss or a crooked captain of industry, achieving his ends by corrupting lawmakers to make his thievish safe just as a man of the Hargis stripe controls courts to make the elimination of the undesirable citizen safe. This same criminal selfishness is now exhibiting itself in the tobacco sections of Kentucky, and is spreading northward and southward beyond the borders of this state.

The "night rider" is an exponent of Hargisism. His plan is to control the action of local government by intimidation or by gaining sympathy, and to proceed by arson and if necessary murder, to regulate the affairs of the community. Judge Hargis was a law unto himself, and justified his acts upon the high ground that the other fellow deserved the punishment meted out. If a citizen of Jackson stood between him and his desires he hired someone to shoot that citizen, and decided the action or inaction of the local authorities. He was aided in accomplishing his ends by the complacency of a corrupt political machine, and when the Courier-Journal and other newspapers made it perfectly plain that he was guilty that machine stood between him and the enforcement of the law.

The "night riders" are now practicing unbridled Hargisism upon tobacco growers who refuse to enter the planters' organization. Their code is an exact duplicate of that of the late Judge Hargis, the difference in their guilt and his being one of degree only. Up to the present time arson, assault and threats of assassination have been the clubs chiefly used by the night riders. Unchecked, they will in time resort to assassination instead of threats. Through the complacency of local peace officers, and popular sympathy, the night riders are getting a grip upon many Kentucky counties similar to that with which Hargis held Breathitt during the period in which he controlled the court of first instance, as county judge, and the circuit court as boss of the sheriff and by other means. In the end the night-rider movement will doubtless prove as disastrous to the night riders as Hargisism proved to Hargis. The damage done in the interim is chargeable to a lack of the moral development of the night rider himself and of the neighbor who connives at and sympathizes with his lawlessness because of the Hargisistic belief that the victims of night riders deserve punishment and that the night riders are justified in resorting to violence to achieve their ends.

Together they crossed the river to the less frequented part of the town and knocked at the door of a large unlighted warehouse, flanked by a high board fence. The building faced the street, but was inclosed on the other three sides by this ten foot wall, inside of which were stored large quantities of coal and lumber. After some delay they were admitted and passing down through the dim lit, high banked lanes of merchandise came to the rear room, where they were admitted again. This compartment had been fitted up for the warm storage of perishable goods during the cold weather and, being without windows, made an ideal place for clandestine gatherings.

Glenister was astonished to find every man of the organization present, including Dextery, whom he supposed to have gone home an hour since. Evidently a discussion had been in progress, for a chairman was presiding, and the boxes, kegs and bales of goods had been shoved back against the walls for seats. On these were ranged the three score men of the "Strangers," their serious faces lighted imperfectly by scattered lanterns. A certain constraint seized them upon Glenister's entrance. The chairman was embarrassed. It was but momentary, however. Glenister himself felt that tragedy was in the air, for it showed in the men's attitude and spoke eloquently from their strained faces. He was about to question the man next to him when the presiding officer continued:

"We will assemble here quietly with our arms at 1 o'clock. And let me caution you again not to talk or do anything to scare the birds away."

Glenister arose. "I came late, Mr. Chairman, so I missed hearing your plan. I gather that you're out for business, however, and I want to be in it. May I ask what is on foot?"

"Certainly. Things have reached such a pass that moderate means are useless. We have decided to act and act quickly. We have exhausted every legal resource, and now we're going to stamp out this gang of robbers in our own way. We will get together in an hour, divide into three groups of twenty men, each with a leader, then go to the houses of McNamara, Stillman and Voorhees, take them prisoners, and—"

Glenister made no answer for a moment, while the crowd watched him intently. "You have discussed this fully?" he asked.

"We have. It has been voted on, and we're unanimous."

"My friends, when I stepped into this room just now I felt that I wasn't wanted. Why, I don't know, because I have had more to do with organizing this movement than any of you and because I have suffered just as much as the rest. I want to know if I was omitted from this meeting intentionally."

"This is an embarrassing position to put me in," said the chairman gravely, "but I shall answer as spokesman for these men if they wish."

"Yes; go ahead," said those around the room.

"We don't question your loyalty, Mr. Glenister, but we didn't ask you to this meeting because we know your attitude—perhaps I'd better say sentiment—regarding Judge Stillman's niece—er—family. It has come to us from various sources that you have been affected to the prejudice of your own and your partner's interest. Now, there isn't going to be any sentiment in the affairs of the vigilantes. We are going to do justice, and we thought the simplest way was to ignore you in this matter and spare all discussion and hard feeling in every quarter."

"It's a lie," shouted the young man hoarsely, "a damned lie! You wouldn't let me in for fear I'd kick, eh? Well, you were right. I will kick. You've hinted about my feelings for Miss Chester. Let me tell you that she is engaged to marry McNamara and that she's nothing to me. Now, then, let me tell you further that you won't break into her house and hang her uncle, even if he is a reprobate. No, sir! This isn't the time for violence of that sort. We'll win without it. If we can't let's fight like men and not hunt in a pack like wolves. If you want to do something, put us back on our mines and help us hold them, but, for God's sake, don't descend to assassination and the tactics of the Mafia!"

"We knew you would make that kind of a talk," said the speaker, while the rest murmured grudgingly. One of them spoke up.

"We've talked this over in cold blood, Glenister, and it's a question of their lives or our liberty. The law don't enter into it."

"That's right," echoed another at his elbow. "We can't seize the claims, because McNamara's got soldiers to back him up. They'd shoot us down. You ought to be the last one to object."

He saw that dispute was futile. Determination was stamped on their faces too plain for mistake, and his argument had no more effect on them than had the pale rays of the lantern beside him, yet he continued:

"I don't deny that McNamara deserves lynching, but Stillman doesn't. He's a weak old man—some one laughed derisively—"and there's a woman in the house. He's all she has in the world to depend upon, and you would have to kill her to get at him. If you must follow this course, take the others, but leave him alone."

They only shook their heads, while several pushed by him even as he spoke. "We're going to distribute our favours equal," said a man as he left. They were actuated by what they called justice, and he could not sway them. The life and welfare of the north were in their hands, as they thought, and there was not one to hesitate. Glenister implored the chairman, but the man answered him:

"It's too late for further discussion, and let me remind you of your promise. You're bound by every obligation that exists for an honorable man—"

"Oh, don't think that I'll give the snap away!" said the other; "but I warn you again not to enter Stillman's house."

He followed out into the night to find that Dextery had disappeared, evidently wishing to avoid argument. Roy had seen signs of unrest beneath the prospector's restraint during the past few days, and indications of a fierce hunger to vent his spleen on the men who had robbed him of his most sacred rights. He was of an intolerant, vindictive nature that would go to any length for vengeance. Retribution was part of his creed.

On his way home the young man looked at his watch to find that he had but an hour to determine his course. Instinct prompted him to join his friends and to even the score with the men who had injured him so bitterly, for, measured by standards of the frontier, they were pirates with their lives forfeit. Yet he could not countenance this step. If only the vigilantes would be content with making an example—but he knew they would not. The blood hunger of a mob is easy to whet and hard to halt. McNamara would resist, as would Voorhees and the district attorney, then there would be bloodshed, riot, chaos. The soldiers would be called out and martial law declared; the streets would become skrimish grounds. The vigilantes would rout them with but question, for every citizen of the north would rally to their aid, and speech men could not be stopped. The judge would go down with the rest of the ring, and what would happen to her?

He took down his Winchester, oiled and cleaned it, then buckled on a belt of cartridges. Still he wrestled with himself. He felt that he was being ground between his loyalty to the vigilantes and his own conscience. The girl was one of the gang, he reasoned—she had schemed with them to betray him through his love, and she was pledged to the one man in the world whom he hated with fanatical fury. Why should he think of her in this hour? Six months back he would have looked with jealous eyes upon the sight to lead the vigilantes, but this change that had mastered him—what was it? Not cowardice, nor caution. No. Yet, being intangible, it was none the less marked, as his friends had shown him an hour since.

He slipped out into the night. The mob might do as it pleased elsewhere, but no man should enter her house. He found a light shining from her parlor window, and, noting the shade up a few inches, stole close. Peering through, he discovered Struve and Helen talking. He slunk back into the shadows and remained hidden for a considerable time after the lawyer left, for the dancers were returning from the hotel and passed close by. When the last group had chattered away down the street, he turned to the front of the house, and mounting the steps, knocked sharply. As Helen appeared at the door, he stepped inside and closed it after him.

The girl's hair lay upon her neck and shoulders in tumbled brown masses, while her breast heaved tumultuously at the sudden, grim sight of him. She stepped back against the wall, her wondrous, deep gray eyes wide and troubled, the blush of modesty struggling with the pallor of dismay.

COUPON BOND betters by age, because it is made slowly.

You cannot hasten the process of paper making and get as good a paper as by the old slow method. You have to build a sheet of paper. That is why a blind man could tell a sheet of Coupon Bond in a room of other papers. The "feel" would tell him the character of the paper. Its strength and surface would tell the story of slow, careful manufacture.

TRYING TO BUTT OUT HIS BRAINS

Either crazy or full of cocaine, Adam Clark, a negro, tried to butt his brains out last night on the buildings on Broadway near Third street. At every brick wall Clark would see, he would lower his head and charge. Sometimes he struck so hard that he would be thrown backward by the force. During the performance of his strength Clark had an interested crowd around him. Word was sent to police headquarters, and Detective Henry Bailey and Patrolman Thad Terrell went around to take Clark in. He went quietly until he saw the city hall, and then he kicked and struck the officers. When Clark reached the door to go into the jail four men were required to take him down the steps. He fought and the patrolmen had their hands full, keeping him from killing some one. After being placed in the jail Clark made things lively, and the other prisoners were jumping around the jail like monkeys. They kept out of Clark's way, and shouted for the police to take Clark out. Some of the negroes jumped up on the hot steam pipes near the ceiling to keep out of Clark's reach. After a time Clark fell over on a cot and went to sleep much to the delight of the other prisoners.

Clark came back from the penitentiary a short time ago, where he served a term for stealing shoes from Dr. W. Nelson. Acquaintances say that Clark has acted peculiarly since his return, and it is the belief that Clark had some "whisky" or "coke" that made him wild last night. This morning he had not recovered from the effects of his jag, and did not have his trial.

HARAHAN ANSWERS FISH.

President of Illinois Central States Positively That Rothschild Proxies Have Been Removed.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—President Harahan of the Illinois Central in an interview today, upon being asked what he had to say in regard to the New York dispatch appearing in the papers today, quoting Stuyvesant Fish as saying that the Illinois Central had proposed to carry a floating debt of $30,000,000 by means of the issue of short time notes, stated that the company has a plan under consideration for financing, but that the matter has not been finally acted upon, that as far as an issue of stock is concerned, no such action could be taken unless all the stocks were entitled to be represented at the meeting, including that which Stuyvesant Fish has attacked.

Mr. Fish adroitly evaded the question when asked about a dispatch from London, asserting that the Rothschilds had revoked their proxies from Mr. Fish.

Mr. Harahan stated positively that the Rothschild proxies had been revoked from Fish; also that the holders of thousands of shares have changed their proxies from Fish to Harahan the stockholders evidently realizing that their own personal and financial interests will be fully protected by supporting the present administration and that the attacks Mr. Fish has made upon the integrity of the stock of the Illinois Central invited disaster to the interests of the stockholders.

Chairman Jenkins Turns Down Speaker Reed's Daughter.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Heading a delegation of woman suffragists, Mrs. Katherine Reed Ballington, wife of Captain Ballington, of the artillery now stationed in Fort Meyer, Va., called upon Chairman Jenkins, of the house judiciary committee.

"Don't you remember me, Judge? I am the daughter of Speaker Reed," was Mrs. Ballington's query.

"Why, bless me, yes," was the reply of the chairman.

"I want to know how the committee stands on this suffragist problem. How will they vote?" queried Mrs. Ballington.

"I can not say for the committee," said Judge Jenkins, "but as for myself, I shall always vote against woman suffrage."

Before the chairman could tell Mrs. Ballington that her father had written the most sensational report ever published in opposition to suffrage for women, the delegation retired.

NEWS OF COURTS

In Circuit Court.

The motion for a new trial of both the plaintiff and defendant in the suit of J. R. Ferguson against the Palmer Ferguson Mill company were overruled by Judge Reed this morning and an appeal was granted both parties to the court of appeals. Ferguson was given a verdict for $1,000 against the mill company and both sides claim that the amount is not in keeping with the law and evidence, the plaintiff claiming it is not enough while the defendant contends that no damages should have been given. Both sides also claim that the court erred in giving instructions and admitting incompetent evidence.

Judge Reed today made an order that hereafter no attorney will be allowed to take any papers from the circuit clerk's office without an order of court.

Suit has been filed in the circuit court by S. Langford & company against Sanderson & company, wall paper dealers, for $64.29, alleged to be due on account for merchandise.

CAPT. AND MRS. F. L. CHURCH SURPRISED BY FRIENDS.

The Marshall (Minn.) News says: "Our old Marshall friends, Capt. F. L. Church and wife, have the faculty of making friends in any community where they cast their lot. During the past two years they have been residing at Florence, near Frontenac and Lake City, and recently deciding to return to their old Kentucky home, were given a cordial greeting on the eve of departure, of which the Lake City Sentinel speaks as follows:

"Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Church, of Kentucky, who have been living on the Spinney farm in the town of Florence since last spring, were the recipients of a delightful surprise party Saturday evening. They had been invited to the residence of Thomas Canfield and family to spend a quiet evening, but after they arrived the neighbors came on the scene over thirty strong, and at once took charge of the proceedings.

The occasion of the celebration was the return to Kentucky of Mr. and Mrs. Church and family. They had packed all their effects and the neighbors took this opportunity of expressing their good will and friendship. Mr. Church and son, Frank, left on Sunday with the stock, while Mrs. Church went to Chicago Monday for a few days' visit, after which she will proceed to Paducah, Ky., their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Church have expressed their appreciation of the kindness shown them by their neighbors and say that they will never forget the good friends in the town of Florence."

RHEUMATISM

BODY RACKED WITH PAIN

No other disease causes such wide-spread suffering as Rheumatism. It is a nerve-racking torture, and so thoroughly does it dominate the system, when it becomes entrenched in the blood, that its victims are usually complete slaves to pain. Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid in the blood brought on by stomach troubles, weak kidneys, indigestion, and a sluggish condition of the system. The natural refuse of the body, instead of passing off through the ordinary channels of waste, is left to sour and ferment in the system because of these irregularities, forming uric acid which is absorbed into the blood, and Rheumatism gets a foothold. As the blood circulates through the body it deposits the acid, irritating substances with which it is saturated, into the different muscles, nerves, tissues, and bones. Sharp, biting pains commence, the flesh becomes feverish, swollen and tender, the muscles and joints throb and jerk, and the body is literally racked with pain. Plasters, blisters, liniments, etc., can never cure the disease; they relieve the pain, perhaps, temporarily, but do not reach the trouble, which is in the blood. S. S. S. is the proper treatment for Rheumatism. It goes down and attacks the disease at its head, and by driving out the poison and acid fluids which are causing the pain, and strengthening and enriching the blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, just what is needed in every case of Rheumatism. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Plenty of Water in Lakes. Detroit, Mich., Feb. 11.—The United States survey in its report for January reported that Lake Michigan and Lake Huron are sixteen inches higher than in January, 1896, six and one-half inches higher than in 1904, and five inches above the mean January stage of the last ten years, but they are lower by two and one-half inches than in January last year, and twenty-seven inches lower than in 1886.

No Meeting of Commissioners. Vice Mayor Ed Hannan and J. K. Bonds were the only members of the board of fire and police commissioners present at the regular meeting last night and an adjournment was taken until next Friday night. Mr. R. R. Sutherland, one of the members of the commission, will leave today for Pomona, Calif., to visit his daughter, Mrs. William Engert, several months.

"Woman is considered the weaker vessel," she remarked, "and yet—"

"Well?" she queried, "and she hesitated."

"And yet," she continued, "man is more often broke."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

WAREHOUSE FOR RENT

The old Christian church, on North Fourth street between Jefferson and Monroe, 40x115 feet, two-story brick, in good condition.

F. L. SCOTT

Saloonmen Rebuke Clergy.

In an address to the clergy of the state in favor of the model saloon license the president of the league says:

"We would like to call your attention to what we think is a very serious phase of this question. The Anti-Saloon League is taking the ground that the manufacture of alcohol beverages is wrong per se, and that those who make them or give them to others are committing a sin or setting a bad example."

"If this be true, then there is no question that the Almighty was wrong in commending the use of wine in speaking to His chosen people, and Christ was wrong in making wine at the feast of Galilee when He could have turned water into wine as easily as He turned water into wine; and He was wrong in selecting bread and wine to commemorate His death."

"That the wine that Christ made was intoxicating is beyond question, because wine is the fermented juice of the grape, and fermentation produces alcohol, and alcohol intoxicates. Unfermented grape juice, where the fermentation is arrested by salicylic acid or by the Pasteurizing process, is not wine, and we do not suppose that there was any wine known for arresting fermentation at the time of Christ."

"That this wine was fermented is also shown by the statement of Christ that new wine should not be put into old bottles. The bottles used in Palestine were made of leather, and the fermentation of the new wine would break an old bottle. St. Paul, in

First Timothy III, 3-8; Titus I, 7 and II, 3, and Ephesians V, 18 intimates we think, that the wine used at that time was intoxicating. The same intimation is made in First Peter IV, 3, and in First Corinthians XI, 17-29."

"Now, if the Anti-Saloon League, in its effort to establish prohibition that does not and cannot prohibit, proves to the satisfaction of the American people that Christ did that which was wrong, that Christ committed a sin and that Christ set a bad example to future generations, then we fear that the Anti-Saloon League will have succeeded (insofar as the American people are concerned) in destroying the very foundation of the Christian faith."

The great infidels of the past stood helpless before the character of Christ, and all of them agreed that it was faultless, but the Kentucky issue, which represents the Anti-Saloon League in the state, says that Christ's example is not the Christian rule of conduct, and the Anti-Saloon League, in its campaign, undertakes to discover a flaw in the character of Christ."

"Of course, this is a strange suggestion to come from men connected with the whisky business to one who is connected with the ministry, but we have given a great deal of thought to this matter, and we consider it a very serious phase of this question, and one that deserves the earnest thought of every man connected with the church. Yours truly,"

Miss Emma Mayer returned to her room in the McKinley building, by Miss Karnes and Miss May Ellis, of the Franklin building, are still out owing to illness.

During the year the enrollment of the High school has passed the 200 mark, although it is not quite the present figure, because some of the students have quit on account of illness. Since September, 143 girls and 62 boys matriculated, making the enrollment number 205.

JAKE KILRAIN
With John V., Who Blasted His Ring Honors.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 11.—Jake Kilrain, who an even score of years ago was the most talked about man in the pugilistic world, entered upon his fiftieth year yesterday. Kilrain is this week playing an engagement at a local theater in company with John L. Sullivan, the man to whom he lost the championship in 1889.

Kilrain, like Sullivan, regards Boston as his home, though it was in Greenport, N. Y., that he first saw the light of day. But as a youth he came to Somerville, a suburb of Boston, and here he worked for a number of years in a rolling mill. It was here also that he first developed his love for athletics.

In the winter of 1883 Kilrain, whose real name, by the way, is John Joseph Kilrain, became an assistant at the old Cribb club in Boston, and from that time on his entire attention was devoted to boxing. Very quickly he showed his ability by whipping Harry Allen, George Godfrey for 44 rounds, and fighting draws in 1884 with Jim Goode, Charley Mitchell and Mike Cleary.

In 1887 he reached the zenith of his career. In September of that year, after receiving great farewells ovations in New York and Boston, he sailed for England to fight Jem Smith for the championship of the world. On landing in Liverpool he received a grand reception, and four days later he appeared in St. James hall, London, and was greeted by an audience of 3,000 people. The same week the marquis of Queensbury gave a banquet in honor of Kilrain, and among those present was the prince of Wales, now King Ed.

The fight with Smith took place at Dieppe, France, December 19. It was witnessed by a large crowd of Englishmen, each of whom had put up $200 to see the fight. The battle

GIRLS WHO WORK

Girls who work for their living are especially exposed to the dangers of organic feminine disorders. Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions; walking to and from their places of employment in bad weather all tend to break down their delicate feminine organism.

No class of women are in need of greater assistance, and thousands of letters like the following demonstrate the fact that restores the feminine system to a strong, healthy, normal condition. Miss Abby F. Barrows, of Nelsonville, Ohio, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was very sick, had dull headaches, pain in my back, and a feminine weakness. I had been to several doctors and they did me no good. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, and I can do most any kind of work. I am in better health than I ever was, and it is all due to your medicine."

Miss Lillian Ross, of 530 E. 84th St., New York, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I had a female trouble, nervous headaches, and was tired all the time, and could not sleep. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me feel so much better that I hope every woman who suffers as I did will try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, and has positively cured thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice.

went 106 rounds and was declared a draw, though Kilrain was generally credited with having the better of his antagonist.

SETS PITTSBURG HOT PLACE; CHICAGO'S TURN IS NEXT.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 11.—Brodie L. Duke, son of the millionaire tobacco king of New York, came to Pittsburg on Friday and left a trail of red fire after him that has not yet been obliterated. Evidently determined that here are other millionaires besides the Pittsburg brand, he came here to show the locals how they should act when they reach the "great white way." Brodie is now in Chicago resting up, while Pittsburg is still rubbing its eyes and remarking, "I swan."

Duke came here early in the day, sicked up a bunch of friends, engaged three touring cars, and broke more speed records than ever were broken in this city before. Then he went to a cafe, took exception to the music of the orchestra, and gave the leader $65 to change the program. He scattered about tips ranging from $5 to $25, and when the check for the dinner and other things that went with it, amounting almost to $1,000, was presented, he paid it without bating a lash.

After the dinner Duke and his friends went out for another ride and visited every place worth visiting in Pittsburg, except the stogie factories. He managed to get rid of another bunch of money, and before he left for Chicago the financial stringency had been relieved to the extent of $2,000.

As Brodie was here only fifteen hours, every one admits he was going some.

Lots of people would lose all hope of society but for their periods of self-appreciation.

When the church grafts on this world it is not strange it ceases to bear the fruits of another world.

TOMMY BURNS IS VICTORIOUS

Knocked English Champion Out in Fourth Round.

A One-Sided Affair From Sound of First Gong—Palmer Showed Nervousness at Start.

ODDS 6 TO 4 ON THE AMERICAN

London, Feb. 11.—Tommy Burns, American heavyweight pugilist, last night knocked out Jack Palmer, of New Castle, England's champion, in the fourth round of which was scheduled to be a 20-round contest for the heavyweight championship. The fight was a one-sided affair from the sound of the first gong until the middle of the fourth round, when Palmer, on his knees, was finally counted out.

The referee might have given a decision in the first minute of the contest, as Palmer was a beaten man from the moment he entered the ring.
Burns climbed under the ropes smiling and showing his customary confidence while Palmer displayed great nervousness.

Without any preliminary sparring, Burns went after him and the first round had hardly begun before the Englishman was on his knees. He took the count twice, and during the rest of the round was busily engaged in covering himself.

This was repeated in each of the other rounds, Palmer being hopelessly outclassed and apparently without ability either to deliver a telling blow or defend himself.

In the final round he was sent to the floor several times and at last was barely able to drag himself to his knees, where he remained with his elbows on the floor until after the count of ten.

The fight was for $2,500 and 75 per cent of the gate receipts. Odds were 6 to 4 on the American, but there was very little betting. There were no takers for bets offered by Palmer that he would stay six rounds.

Congressional Funerals.

The late Senator Mallory, of Florida, in requesting that he be given no official funeral has had a wholesome effect. Commenting on the dying message and the well known innate modesty and genuine refinement of the dead senator, the New York Sun
said:

"Stephen R. Mallory has been in public life long enough to realize the real nature of the 'congressional funeral,' with its heartless junketing, its sordid use of expenditure, its vulgar exploitation of every personal opportunity. No doubt in his day, he examined one or more of the expense accounts growing out of such shameless pageantry—the gloves, the flowers, the soap, the pocket knives, the hand bags, the thousand articles of private luxury and convenience with which the official mourner has been accustomed in the past to mitigate his grief. Evidently he did not wish his name to be associated with so coarse a comedy or have his quiet obsequies made the pretext for a demonstration of vulgarity. He preferred, it seems, to pass to final rest attended only by those who knew and loved him in this world, who would dignify his grave with genuine and simple sorrow and spare it the mockery of a carouse."

Statements of this character have been made by others, and it seems to be an established fact that Cooper's work is genuine.

A LIFE'S SEARCH

CAMBRIDGE GROCER'S VAIN CON-TINENTAL HUNT.

Found Relief in Ohio Man's Secret After Twenty Years of Deafness.

Boston, Feb. 10.—This city is at present in the midst of an excitement beyond anything that it has experienced in recent years.

Old and young, rich and poor, all seem to have become beside themselves over an individual who was a stranger to Boston until a few days ago.

The man who has created all this turmoil is L. T. Cooper, of Dayton, Ohio, who is at present introducing his preparations in this city for the first time.

Cooper is a man about thirty years of age who has acquired a fortune within the past two years by the sale of some preparations of which he is the owner.

Reports from other cities that preceded the young man here were of the most startling nature, many of the leading dailies going so far as to state that he had cured in public places deafness of years' standing with one of his preparations. Physicians generally contradicted this statement, claiming the thing to be impossible, but the facts seemed to bear out the statement that Cooper actually did so.

In consequence people flocked to him by thousands, and his preparations sold like wildfire.

Many of these stories were regarded as fictitious in Boston, and until Cooper actually reached this city little attention was paid to them. Hardly had the young man arrived, however, than he began demonstrations, as he calls them, in public and daily met people afflicted with deafness, and with a single application of one of his preparations actually made deaf people hear again.

One of those treated a day or two ago, was Patrick McLaughlin, a well-known grocer of Cambridge, who, in answer to a question by a reporter,
said:

"Yes, it is true that my hearing has been restored by Mr. Cooper. I have been deaf for twenty years, and it seems too wonderfully strange to be able to hear again that I have not yet become accustomed to the change. In years past I had been to leading specialists both in this country and in Europe, who had failed to help me, and I had long ago given up all hope.

"When Mr. Cooper came to Boston, I went to him merely as a joke, and expected to have some fun at his expense, for I really do not think he could do anything for me. However, the joke is on me, and I am truly glad of it. I now hear perfectly, and you can publish the news in the world if you want to, for I think others ought to know about this man Cooper and what he is doing. I do not know how to thank him enough for what he has done for me."

Statements of this character have been made by others, and it seems to be an established fact that Cooper's
work is genuine.

MARSHALL FIELD ESTATE PAYS MILLION TO CITY.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Chicago and its co-ordinate taxing bodies will have $1,000,000 to spend this year which they were not looking for. It is not a promise for the future, but a certainty of actual cash available within a short time. It looks to them like a belated Christmas gift.

The executors of the Marshall Field estate agreed to pay that amount in settlement of the claims for back taxes which have been pending against that estate for two years. The full claim was $1,730,000, but the executors urged strong legal objections to many of the items and an offer of $1,000,000 in hand was considered by County Attorney Harry A.
Lewis as much better than a claim for more, which could not be collected for years if allowed by the courts.

The check for $1,000,000 probably will be the largest one ever drawn in payment of taxes.

PURE FOOD BILL

PASSES SENATE

Misbranded or Adulterated
Articles Forbidden.

Law Introduced in House Forbidding Marriage of First Cousins—Capital Grounds.

AMENDS FIVE GALLON LAW

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11.—In the senate Senator Charlton sent up several petitions signed by sundry citizens urging that no prohibition or retaliatory legislation be passed as to insurance companies doing business in other states. The petitions were referred to the insurance committee.
The bill to prohibit the sale of misbranded or adulterated foods or drugs came up as a special order.
Senator Burnham offered an amendment providing that the expense of enforcing the law shall not exceed $15,000 a year. Senators Newman, Neil, Oliver and Bosworth said this would kill the purpose of the bill, as it takes $15,000 now to test the impure foods.

Senator Burnham later withdrew his amendment, and Senator Newman's amendment, fixing the annual appropriation to carry the law into effect at $30,000, was adopted. The Newman amendment to include Paris green in the list of drugs that must not be adulterated, was also adopted.
The bill, as amended, passed by 23 to 2.

Day in the House.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11.—The thirty-first day of the general assembly began at 11:55 o'clock this morning when Speaker Gooch rapped sharply with his gavel, and Father J. S.
Major offered prayer.

A petition circulated by Representative Klair, asking the New York legislature not to interfere with the Percy-Gray racing law in that state, was widely signed by members of both from too much food, John and Peter Radmanitz, two children, were found drowned in the Allegheny general hospital. The boys are oldest of a family of eight, which was near starvation.

VIGOROUS ACTION

been practised by corporations and declared that the conviction had seized the people that there were many engaged in the management of corporate wealth who regarded the statutes as dead letters, and themselves as privileged characters.

"We were passing into a regime of irresponsible plutocracy," said he, and added, "during the last four years there has been great moral awakening to this danger among the people, and the popular demand that law breakers no matter how wealthy or how high or powerful their position shall be made to suffer. Under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt, the Republican party has not faltered in its determination to meet the requirements of the situation and to enact such legislation as may be necessary to bring to a close this period of illegitimate corporate immunity."

Concluding Taft said:

"Vigorous action and measures to stamp out the existing abuses and effect reforms are necessary to vindicate society as it is at present constituted. Otherwise, we must yield to those who seek to introduce a new order of things on a socialistic basis. The Republican party follows the administration upon this social and moral reform—approves its attitude in favor of vested rights, of maintaining power of courts, of rendering equal legislation a basis of dealing between employer and employee, of strengthening the regulative power over railroads and other interstate corporations, and of prosecuting those law breakers who continue to defy public opinion."

"Roosevelt leads his party as Lincoln led his—as McKinley led his—to meet new issues presented, to arm our political civilization, and it will be a bold front, to resist the attacks of socialism on the coming generations and on the great institution of civil liberty inherited from our fathers."

Hadley Says Something.

Herbert S. Hadley, attorney general of Missouri, responded to the toast "We Have Put Our Hand to the Plow."

After speaking of the success of the McKinley administration and of that of President Roosevelt especially the latter's dealing with corporations, Hadley said:

"And now that Roosevelt has blazed the pathway along which we must travel, we need a leader who will continue his work because his heart is in the work; who will have courage to be right when it is popular to be wrong; who is brave enough and strong enough to refuse to make terms with politicians, even to be president; who thinks before he makes a difference, and who knows the difference between principle and precedent; a leader who knows the rights of labor and of capital, and the wrongs of each; who will add the conservatism and experience of the judge to the experience and aggressiveness of the executive; who realizes that our trade and commerce must be honest and lawful; who has shown that he can successfully direct the prosecution of the greatest public work of the century and negotiate with fairness and satisfaction treaties affecting the lives and happiness of millions of people; who knows as no other man knows, the needs and necessities of our independent races, who has a heart that feels for their deficiencies and their hopes."

"In short, who is able and dwelling to successfully carry forward the great work and destiny of the Republican party. Such a man, and such a leader, Republicans of Missouri believe, and believing they should not hesitate to say that the American people will find in the trusted friend of William McKinley, and Theodore Roosevelt, secretary of war, and also secretary of peace, our honored guest tonight, William H. Taft, of Ohio."

Speeches were also made by several other prominent Missourians.
